Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake and the Mayor's Office of Minority and Women-Owned Business Development invite women in business to attend a special event focusing on the needs of women entrepreneurs. This event is targeted to women and will consist of matchmaking / speed-dating opportunities with financial entities. The event will also provide opportunities for attendees to meet on-on-one with lending and finance experts to have their specific questions answered, and the opportunity to network with each other to build and continue relationships.

The event is free to attend; however, registration is required.
